P3a. Description:

The property contains a two-story commercial building with an irregular plan and wood-frame construction. Designed in the Spanish Colonial Revival style, it has a low-pitch side-gable roof with clay tiles and exposed rafter tails. The exterior walls are clad with smooth stucco. The primary (north) facade includes a covered entry on the second level, and an exterior staircase with a solid stepped balustrade. Non-original aluminum slider windows on the side elevation have been replaced with compatible wood windows, and the entrance door is also non-original. Original fenestration consists of wood windows throughout the residence. The residence is in good condition. Its integrity is fair.
